

These are five high-level key messages that can be incorporated in different ways in many communications. The bulleted items under the last four key messages provide additional supporting arguments for the key messages.

The leadership of the UCLA Health System and David Geffen School of Medicine believes implementation of CareConnect is essential to take the organization to the next level of excellence as a worldwide leader in patient care, education, research, and innovation.

CareConnect represents a once-in-a-generation opportunity to transform the way care is delivered by integrating systems across UCLA Health System.

- One person, one chart
- Streamlined scheduling process
- Available around-the-clock to providers
- Increased efficiency

CareConnect will the patient's experience of care across UCLA Health System.

- Similar experience of care wherever patients are seen in the system
- Enhanced patient safety
- Increased quality of care from improved continuity of care, and better integration of best practices and evidence-based medicine
- More thoroughly coordinated care planning
- Easier scheduling and simplified billing

We've brought the right people to the table to make the 1,000s of decisions about technical resources, workflows, roles, and clinical content (order sets, notes, forms, decision support) necessary to ensure that you'll be able to do your job using CareConnect.

- 1,000 faculty and staff members who are actually doing the work in clinical and administrative settings helped validate workflows to ensure that the workflows in CareConnect meet our business and clinical needs.
- 100s of faculty and staff members who actually doing the work in clinical and administrative settings are diving deeper into developing workflows and clinical content by serving as subject-matter experts, on advisory boards, and in work groups.

Contact us at CareConnect@mednet.ucla.edu, www.CareConnect.uclahealth.org.